1. The Comité de Reorganización Obrera (CRO) elected the following new secretaries on 3 April:

Victor Herrera	Secretary General
Daniel Gemero	Organization
Julio Galvez	Acts
Domingo Calles	Culture
Rafael Guerrero	Conflicts
Napoleon Villacorta	Finances
Rodolfo Salazar	Correspondence and External Relations
Jose Antonio Magastizado	Agitation and Propaganda
Angelica Trigueros	Women's Affairs

2. Rafael Pena, former Secretary of Acts of the CRO, withdrew from the organization because he did not believe that the line followed by the CRO was compatible with practical syndical policy. Marco Antonio Monge, active Communist, also withdrew from the CRO because he could not agree to combat the sabotage being carried on by certain unidentified partisan elements.
3. The CRO is having difficulty obtaining the confidence of the labor unions it is trying to influence. It has adopted the propaganda line that it supports the government junta and that the junta supports the CRO. The workers have been told that they should have no fears about associating with the CRO because the CRO enjoyed complete junta support, that Communist Party members are well located in the government and that more are being called by the government for their collaboration. The workers have also been told that the Communist Party has had almost daily contact with members of the government junta.
